DOES NOT FEEL WELL

Brooklyn Angry Since New York Became Good.

WICKEDNESS CROSSED OVER

When Driven From Manhattan the Crowd Found Lodging in a Safer Place.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE. No. 1242]

New York, March 7—Twelve years ago I was standing on Fulton street, near the city hall, in what is now known as the Borough of Brooklyn, but then was known as the City of Brooklyn, and a very proud city it was—proud of its churches, proud of its preachers, proud of its general morals, for then there were no professional soiled doves to waylay the unsuspecting traveler who received his first lessons in wisdom by the wayside, and this soiled dove to impress her lessons more deeply on her pupil's mind, would relieve him of his gold watch, a wedding gift, perchance, from his wife. He never desired after that to mention his loss, as it occurred in such disreputable company.

But on the whole, Brooklyn does not feel much honored by the change.

The soiled doves that I spoke of, driven from Manhattan, which once was New York City, have found refuge in the apartment houses of the Borough of Brooklyn. That city has lost much of the old time gentility which distinguished it in the past. She misses her home associations and grows every day more like her new found mother.

But there is trouble in the wind; it has been brewing for a long time past. Before the consolidation the opposite ends of the battleground were New York and Brooklyn Democracy was the representative power in both cities—New York as a supreme power and Brooklyn the counter-check to Tammany's policy; for a very long time their associations had been on the north side of friendly and this week brought matters to a fierce fight in the Democratic police commission. Mr. Devery has made himself particularly offensive to the Democracy of Kings county by his constant removal of some of the best officers in the precinct and substituting therefor some of the very worst policemen of his own. His most grievous offense, however, was the transfer of the nephew of Boss McLaughlin, which seemed a direct blow at the old chief's supremacy in his own bailiwick. The old man accepted the battle gage, threw off his coat, shied his caubeen into the ring, gave his blackthorn a twist and shouted, "Come on now: who'll thread on the tail av me coat?" Chief Devery was on hand, but it did not take long for him to come to grief. It was not the first time that he had experienced a knockout, but never before in his experience was he so completely done up as he was when the Boss of Brooklyn caught him under the jaw with his blackthorn. Richard Croker was his alter ego. Colonel Mike Murphy, the new head of the police commission, was like Richard Croker's other self, and there was that prime factor, Mr. Carroll, who takes Mr. Croker's place when Mr Croker is hobnobbing with Wales at Wantage, or is sharing the hospitality of the Seventh Edward in the smoky palace of St. James. Mayor Van Wyck can also be depended on in times of peril when Tammany's lares and penates are in danger. He has many other friends than those mentioned who, if he is politically killed, will give him a first-class wake and his enemies find him the liveliest ghost New York has seen for a generation.

It is not at all surprising that there should be the most earnest scheming to get control of the franchise held by eight thousand police, and the new police bill will take from that body the absolute power over elections heretofore held by them.

They have had control of the ballot boxes from the time the polls closed until the votes were officially counted. Whether the new reform bill will eliminate the evils that have existed in the past can only be found out on trial, with a free ballot and a fair count.

It scarcely seems like four years since the people assembled together from different parts of the United States, forming little clubs to go on to Washington to witness the inauguration of a new president. But today he is no longer new, but an old friend. Great events have passed

GAVE HIM THE JEWEL

General Lybarger Honored by Grand Lodge Masons.

OVER THREE HUNDRED GUESTS

Witnessed the Ceremony and Spent Thursday Evening Guests of Coshocton Lodge.

The Masonic fraternity of Coshocton long ago proved its ability to care for its friends when occasion offered, and the city will not be surprised when it learns that the reception tendered Most Worshipful Past Grand Master E. L. Lybarger and other distinguished Masons Thursday evening was among the most delightful social events of the season.

It has for many years been the custom of the Grand Lodge of Ohio to present its retiring Grand Master with the jewel of his office, and as Coshocton was given the honor of witnessing the installation of General Lybarger it was also selected as the place where he was to receive additional honor at the hands of that distinguished body. All members of the Grand Lodge were expected to be present, but a number were detained by business that could not be put aside, notably Congressman Bromwell, of Cincinnati, whose captivating oratory and pleasing permade him scores of friends in Coshocton last year.

The arrangements for the presentation ceremonies and the reception were complete to the slightest detail Thursday evening when Masons, their sweethearts, wives, sisters and friends began to assemble at Forbes hall. The entire third story of the building was reserved for the occasion. Card tables were scattered through the reception hall and here many guests spent the time very pleasantly. The ball room was filled with a merry party from the time the speeches ended until after midnight, and the banquet hall was among the prettiest scenes ever witnessed in the city.

After the guests had been received Seth C. Duncan took his place in the ball room as master of ceremonies and delivered an address of welcome. It was brief, but it contained an expression of open handed hospitality that could not be mistaken, and at once put at ease the 300 or more persons present. Mr. Duncan explained the object of the meeting and introduced Most Worshipful Past Grand Master Levi C. Goodale who formally presented the the jewel to General Lybarger. The gentleman spoke in a happy strain, showing the splendid manner in which General Lybarger had governed the great Masonic body of Ohio and paying him a high tribute for his honesty of purpose and his kindness even under trying circumstances. He testified to the high regard in which the retiring official is held by his associates of the Grand Lodge, and did not forget to end with a tribute to the Masons of Ohio.

General Lybargar replied in a fitting manner, showing his appreciation for the high honor he had received. His address was brief but it was filled with good things and was greeted with continued applause by the audience. The handsome gold jewel was pinned to the lapel of the general's coat and he wore it throughout the evening.

"One Hour With You," filled with Masonic sentiment, was beautifully sung by the entire party, and the ball opened with the grand march led by Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hack. It was followed by the 20 numbers of the dancing program. Excellent music was rendered by the Shepler orchestra, and when the last dance was over the floor was filled with tired but happy ladies and gentlemen.

Supper was served in the banquet hall at the east side of the building. Three long tables stretched the full length of the room leaving space at one end for the table devoted to members of the Grand Lodge and other distinguished Masons. More than once were these tables filled, and the room resounded with jest and pleasantry.

It was a pleasant affair throughout and those who were in attendance will long remember the time when Most Worshipful Past Grand Master E. L. Lybarger received the insignia of his office.

Judge Douglass and Judge Donahue, of the circuit court of this district, came with Judge Voorhees from Canton and greatly enjoyed the affair.

A number of prominent Masons from different parts of the state were present, among them being Colonel Johnston, member of the state board of public works of Akron and Uriah Br lihart, of Newark.

UNDER BOND

To Appear in May on Charge of Failure to Provide for His Child.

Edward Shrigley was indicted by the last grand jury for failure to provide for his child, and Sheriff Hedge took him into court Wednesday to answer the charge. He plead not guilty and gave bail in the sum of $300 for his appearance at the May term of court.

The matter grows out of a family quarrel which occurred some time ago.

NOT SATISFIED

An Agreement of Dissolution Which Did Not Suit the Parties.

The troubles of Mrs. Mary Hackenbracht and her husband G. D. Hackenbracht are not yet at an end and a case is being heard in common pleas in which Mrs Hackenbracht seeks to have a contract set aside.

It will be remembered that a year ago the parties entered into articles of dissolution of partnership. One hundred and eleven acres in Oxford township were divided between them and they decided to live apart thereafter. The land was divided and Mrs. Hackenbracht as received her share 104 acres with an indebtedness, she claims, of $4,707. Hackenbracht received a seven-acre homestead and notes worth, it is claimed, $2.570. The contract has become unsatisfactory to Mrs. Hackenbracht and she seeks to have it annulled.

LAW ADOPTED IN INDEMNITY CASES

Russia to Quit the Province of Manchuria When Circumstances Permit. Has No Designs Upon Celestial Territory—Boxer Force Smashed—Negotiations Going on Well.

Peking, March 8 — The ministers' committee has completed its report, and the general principle to be adopted in the case of indemnities is based upon laws in harmony with the Roman and English systems The negotiations, Mr. Rockhill says, are going on well, and he sees no reason why they should not be completed in two months with the exception of the commercial treaties, which will probably take a long time.

Regarding indemnity for losses sustained by missionaries and native Christians, General Chaffee pointed out that his sentiments were well known to the American missionaries, that he was opposed to extortion in every form, and that he favored strict justice in every case, and that, therefore, he would agree quickly to the proposition that the indemnities Sir Robert Hart had mentioned should be settled by the diplomats

Not a Compound.

Lion Coffee is pure coffee, not coated with any mixture requiring the package to be labeled "compound" in order to avoid the penalties of the Pure Food Law.

All so-called "self-settling" coffees deceive the purchaser by making him pay for something that is not worth the money, and when they contain eggs the argument is doubly strong, for the eggs are, of course, FACTORY EGGS, which you would not permit on your table.

Do not buy "Compounds" of coffee and factory eggs, when FOR LESS MONEY you can buy pure, unglazed

Lion Coffee

SEE FOR YOURSELF what you are drinking by stirring a handful of "Self-settling" Coffee in a glass of water; then ask yourself if you want to drink such stuff. The same experiment on Lion Coffee leaves the water clear and pure. TRY IT. It is a simple test thatmeans much to you.

[illegible] WELL.

since then. An immense territory has been added to our national domain. For the first time in our history our exports have exceeded $11,400,000. General prosperity has blessed the nation.

The question is now settled beyond dispute as to whether the people of the United States do or do not approve of the national policy pursued by the present administration.

For many months past we have been told that the people of the United States would stamp out McKinleyism, whatever that may mean. I have known William McKinley many years, as a soldier offering his life for the honor of his country and the prosperity of its liberty as a heritage to his children if he had nothing else to give; as an honest lawyer and an able advocate of the people's cause in the great councils of the nation, occupying with unblemished honor the highest office in the gift of the lower house as speaker, a position that he filled with dignity. As I said in the beginning of this letter I was standing in Fulton street opposite the city hall when the sounds of martial music attracted my attention. I turned around and what should I see but a fine-looking body of men about 400 strong, dressd in a drab uniform. The top coat reached almost to the heels. Each one wore a tall stove-pipe hat and carried an umbrella at shoulder arms. A Herculean brother carried a beautiful silk flag and about 20 feet in advance of the band was John Y. McKane, the King of Coney Island, the happiest man that had ever marched out of the City of Churches. He had just downed the old boss and he knew it. It was the vote of Coney Island that put Benjamin Harrison in the White House, and it was John Y. McKane that did it, and he was now on his way to Washington to congratulate him on his coronation, or his inauguration, I should have said, with his Gillies 400 strong, to give Brother Ben a goodspeed and a good send off. As J. Y. McKane passed the reviewing stand his column turned and raised three ringing cheers, the president gave them the most decided acknowledgement given to any body of men on that day.

It was a proud day entirely for the McKanes when he arrived back in Brooklyn with John Y. McKane Democratic association. He said it had so increased in size that there wasn't a hat in Brooklyn to fit him. Without opposition he took Coney Island and everything ahead of it. Another election was to take place and some curious politicians in Brooklyn desired to see the poll list which gave Coney Island three times as many votes as there were inhabitants. The question was how it was done, and that no fellow could find out. They inquired of Mr. McKane but he was too busy; they tried to get possession of the poll list and the result was they were kicked into the street. They still kept on and Mr. McKane had them locked up from Saturday until Monday, when Mr. Sutherlind, John Y. McKane's justice of the peace, got out of the way and there was no one else to take bail. But the Brooklyn politicians would not let go, so they got a writ of mandamus and sent that down to John Y. McKane, commanding him to place the poll lists in the possession of the parties who wished to examine them.

John Y. McKane took the writ in his left hand and striking it with a club with his other, he struck it so it fell on the ground, then grinding it with his heel in the mud, he said to deputy who brought the writ: "Them things don't go here," and turned away.

When the news reached Brooklyn the city was all aflame and in a very short time Mr. McKane was arrested and placed under several thousand dollars bail. He was indicted by the grand jury, tried and convicted of his crime, and was sentenced to state's prison for several years. He served his term out and returned to Brooklyn, a broken-hearted man, where he died. The companions of his infamy and crime who fled like rats from a sinking ship, were contented to secure their own safety by betraying their companion in shame.

We are bad enough at present but no such crime as John Y. McKane was guilty of, is possible at the present time. Writs of mandamus do go at Coney Island today and are likely to continue so as long as the Republic stands.

FIRE SIGNAL SYSTEM.

Gamewell Company Wants to Do Business With Coshocton.

The report has in some manner spread to the manufacturers of fire alarm signals that Coshocton is in the market for a system, and agents of a number of concerns are writing to the city concerning the matter.

W. C. Chandler, general agent of the Gamewell company, has written that he will gladly come here and present the matter to council. The Gamewell company can put in a cheap or expensive system as the city desires.

NEW AUTOMOBILE.

It Looks Like a Street Car and is the Very Latest Vehicle.

Louis H. Becht, who is here organizing a branch of the Knights of the Royal Arch, is deeply interested in automobiles and may place a handsome vehicle in the city.

It is built like a street car with vestibules for moterman and conductor, and power is derived from a gasoline engine. It can be run at five miles an hour or at 12 miles with two reverse speeds. The wheels are provided with three inch rubber tires, and the carriage is balanced so as to cause the passenger no inconvenience.

The machines are made in Cleveland and a number have been sold in places where trolley systems have not been put on.

BIG FORTUNES

Are Expended By Ohio to Care for Its Wards.

It cost the people of Ohio $220,989.70 to pay the expenses of the workhouses of the state the past year according to official report. There were 11,776 inmates in them during that time.

To maintain the asylums which includes all the insane, blind, institutions for deaf and dumb and feebleminded youths, the orphans' home, soldiers' home, penitentiary and reformatory, it required $2,945,859.57.

The infirmaries, children's homes, jails, outdoor relief by infirmaries, townships' poor and soldiers' relief, $1,820,592.34.

NO MORE STAMPS.

Business Men are Awakening to the Blessings of the New Law.

Coshocton business men are commencing to realize what the repeal of the war tax bill will mean to them when it becomes operative July 1. All documentary stamps will disappear and that extra penny, in some instances many pennies, will no longer be an annoyance.

Leveral thousands of dollars were spent every year by Coshocton for these stamps, and while it was a steady drain on the resources of the community Coshocton was too patriotic to do anything but pay the price and say nothing. The repeal of the law means the death of much annoyance not to speak of the money saved.

MAD DOGS IN HOLMES.

The Scare Has Moved Over Into the Neighboring County.

The great mad dog scare which agitated a portion of Coshocton county a month or more ago has moved over into Holmes and is causing the usual trouble.

A mad dog appeared in the country four miles west of Millersburg and attacked other dogs. It was finally killed. No cattle were attacked.

SOLDIERS AND THEIR HORSES

Went West Over the Pan Handle on a Special Train.

A special train made up of 14 cars containing 35 cavalrymen and 200 horses of the Fifth cavalry passed through the city from Fort Meyer on their way to San Francisco. They will see service in the Philippines. The train was heavy being drawn by two engines.

The train was stopped at Dennison for the purpose of permitting the men to obtain lunch and to water the horses.

COFFEE WILL ADVANCE

Because of the Rumored Corner By the Standard.

More than one housewife in Coshocton is wondering whether the stories concerning the corner in coffee are true and asking each other how high the price will go.

"There is no doubt that something is wrong with coffee," said a grocer. "The price is going up and if the corner is in the hands of men who know their business it may cost a good many dollars before a reduction comes."

NOT TODAY

Will the County Commissioners Pass on the Franchise.

The franchise asked by the Zanesville, Adamsville & Coshocton Electric Railway company was taken under advisement today by the commissioners.

At noon Commissioner Balo said, "I don't believe we will be able to pass on the franchise today. We will call in the representatives of the company some time this afternoon and we will then go over the franchise together."

The commissioners say they want to give a franchise that will protect all parties concerned and will ask nothing unfair from the railway company.

DUCKS NEXT TUESDAY.

The Season Should Open Sunday But the Law Will Not Allow It.

The season for spring duck shooting is between March 10 and April 10, inclusive, but as the 10th day of April falls on Sunday, and as the law prohibits the shooting of ducks and other waterfowl on Sundays and Mondays, the season really opens on Tuesday, March 12.

The hours during which ducks may be hunted are from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m., and this during only five days of the week.

Annie M. Adams to Lovinda Carnes, lot 10 in Roscoe, $400.

Interesting Relics.

Kalamazoo, Mich., March 8.—An autograph letter of George Washington, 1776, was found among some waste paper at the Bryant paper mill. It was written to Captain James Jamieson, a New York merchant, asking for boat freight rates on a quantity of flour. Two copies of The Federal Gazette and Baltimore Advertiser, over 100 years old, and an autograph letter of Robert Morris of Philadelphia dated 1793, were also found. The waste paper came from Philadelphia.

Ask Damages.

New Orleans, March 8.—In a number of libel suits filed against the British steamship Montcalm by muleteers who went to South Africa from this port, the plaintiffs ask damages for bad treatment, unwholesome food and refusal of wages by the captain because they declined to join the British army. They ask $1,000 damages each.

Famous Abbot.

Gethsemane, Ky., March 8.—From France has just come news of the death, which occurred on Feb. 16, of the Rt. Rev. M. Edward, O. C. R., some years ago abbot of the Trappist abbey of the Gethsemane. Father Edward was born at Lamoure, Grenoble, France in 1833, and entered the Trappist monastery of Gethsemane on July 26, 1861.

More Troops to South Africa.

London, March 8.—Whatever negotiations are proceeding, and Mr. Kruger declares they can only be for an armistice, the government evidently has no intention of slackening reinforcements. The war office issued a detailed statement of transports that are to sail for South Africa within the coming week with 12,000 troops. The casualty list reveals the fact that two officers were killed at Lichtenberg March 3. Lord Kitchener's telegram, "Am sending reinforcements," was dated March 6. Evidently, therefore, the fighting continued for some days, and further advices are awaited with anxiety. According to late dispatches, General Dewet and Mr. Steyn have separated, the former being at Petrusburg, west of Bloemfontein, and the latter at Smithfield.

A Treat For the Ghildren

On Saturday of this week we will put on sale a

Whole Drove of China Pigs

in two sizes at 5c and 10c each. They are a real novelty in the way of a savings bank. With each pig we donate a bran new 1901 penny to start each of our little friends on their career of saving. You can see the pigs in our west window.

Listen!

We expected to have another sale of Cream Jugs on Friday of this week but owing to delay in shipping we will have to defer same for another week. We will give ample notice through these columns before putting them on sale.

Every department in the store contains attractions for our friends now. A few odd lots of merchandise are being cleaned up without reference to value, but stacks of new seasonable goods are waiting to greet you at a saving to you of 20 to 25 per cent.

The new spring suits were never so handsome. Real artistic taste is displayed in the designing and tailoring of even our cheaper grades of suits. From $10 up, everything is "to the Queen's taste" in our suit line. We are selling stacks of 'em all the way down to $2.98 a suit.

Something to Remember.

When you are looking for a suit the Fountain is the SUIT HOUSE of this section of the state. You can find on display any day in the year more suits in our suit department than could be found in all the county besides we carry the lines and sell the goods.

For reasons which we have already announced we will this spring save you more money on your suits than ever. How would a saving of 25 per cent. suit you? Let us prove to you that we will do just that for you.

Your servants,

The Fountain D. G. Co
